

FORMER JACKSONVILLE BOY ACCUSED OF MURDER

Earl Taylor Wanted for Two Deaths in Peoria

Crime Said to Be Most Cold Blooded in Annals of Peoria. Police Department. Earl Taylor, 30, former Jacksonville resident, alleged slayer of Leon Charvat, 45, and his wife, Dolly, 42. The crime for which Taylor is sought is said by police to be the most cold-blooded in annals of the department here.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 18.—Special to Journal.—Peoria police tonight were scouring territory south of the city in an effort to apprehend Earl Taylor, 30, former Jacksonville resident, alleged slayer of Leon Charvat, 45, and his wife, Dolly, 42. The crime for which Taylor is sought is said by police to be the most cold-blooded in annals of the department here. Taylor, arrested Friday night on the charge of abusing his wife, was released Saturday morning. He threatened a revolver and went to Charvat's home, where he and his wife were roomers. He was met at the door by Mrs. Charvat. A few words ensued and Taylor suddenly whipping out a gun, fired, the bullet piercing the woman's heart. Her death was instantaneous. Her husband, in the next room attracted by the shot, entered the room and was met by an oath and another shot from Taylor's gun. The bullet entered his breast three inches below the heart, turned upward and pierced that organ.

He was dead when police arrived a few minutes later. Taylor, after the shooting walked out of the house and down the street. Two hours later he was seen in an automobile with two men speeding toward the country south of the city. Police in high powered cars followed twenty minutes later, but lost the trail a few miles out of town. Taylor until Friday had been employed at J. W. Franks & Co., printers. His victim was a bartender of good reputation.

According to witnesses Taylor is declared to have said that Mrs. Charvat threw him downstairs and that he was going home and shoot up the place.

Examination of Mrs. Charvat's body disclosed a pond containing several valuable diamonds and rings inside clothing pierced by the bullet which killed her. The diamond from one ring is missing and is believed by the coroner to have been carried into the body by the shot.

Taylor came to Peoria a few months ago from Jacksonville. His wife joined him here a month ago. He is said to have a record for conviction for bootlegging here.

Taylor's wife is prostrated and refuses to discuss the case. It is reported here that Taylor was married in Jacksonville about a year ago.

No Clue to Whereabouts
News of the Peoria tragedy was first received in Jacksonville about 4:00 Saturday afternoon. It was only a short time previous that the Peoria authorities had learned that Taylor had formerly been a resident of this city. The latest information last night was that the authorities had no clue to the man's whereabouts although telegrams had been sent into all surrounding territory with the expectation of causing his arrest. Taylor is the son of William Taylor, well known hotel clerk of this city. The son has for years given his father a great deal of trouble mainly from his escapades in selling liquor without a license.

Young Taylor was arrested here several times on that charge and the last case when he entered a plea of guilty before Judge Burton in the circuit court the judge took occasion to deliver a personal lecture. It seems that he knows Taylor's grandfather, who is a well known and wealthy resident of Macoupin county, and the judge implored young Taylor to reform and told him of the opportunities of inheritance which await him if he would only make good. Sentence was suspended provided Taylor would leave Jacksonville and remain away for a period of two years.

Taylor's Wife Here
From this city he went to Peoria and has been employed there in various capacities. Aside from his bootlegging proclivities Taylor was arrested here once for beating his wife and for a time they were separated. Just about two years ago Mrs. Taylor went to Peoria to join her husband. Following the tragedy and on the advice of friends Mrs. Taylor left Peoria on the C. & St. L. train and arrived in this city at 7:35 and went to the home of her sister, Mrs. Moore on South West street. Mrs. Taylor has been twice married. Her maiden name was Pearl Crews and she was first married to William Brown, from whom she was divorced. Her marriage to Taylor occurred about two years ago. Taylor's brother, Fenton Taylor, was shot and killed about one year ago at Carlinville by Patrolman Ryan of the city police force there.

ST. JOSEPH MAN ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

Prosecuting Attorney Oscar D. McDaniel of Buchanan County, Missouri, Charged With Wife's Death

St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 18.—Oscar D. McDaniel, prosecuting attorney of Buchanan county, was placed on trial in the criminal court here today on the charge of having murdered Mrs. Harriet Moss McDaniel, his wife.

The testimony of two physicians, Dr. J. J. Wisser, who was acting coroner when the crime was committed and Dr. J. L. Cox, police surgeon—was presented during the afternoon session following the selection of the trial jury and the state's opening declaration delivered by Barr M. Lockwood, special prosecutor this morning.

Dr. Wisser testified that he had been asked by the accused man to delay the coroner's inquest, and that when he had determined upon it, it had been asked by McDaniel to declare to the newspapers that it had been requested by the prosecutor. The most damaging testimony given by Dr. Cox, as viewed by the prosecution was his statement that the blows which killed Mrs. McDaniel were left-handed and that she had been struck "three quarters of an hour" before he responded to McDaniel's call for a police surgeon.

Both Physicians Examined
Both physicians were examined at length by Judge C. F. Strop, of the defense. It was developed that Dr. Cox was not certain whether the blow had been struck by a left-handed or a right-handed man.

Dr. Cox told the jury McDaniel's first statement when police entered the room in which his wife lay bleeding upon the bed was "see what they have done," and that the prosecutor apparently was grater stricken. After he had batted the wounded woman's face the accused man fell beside the bed the police surgeon testified but did not faint.

Dr. Cox was questioned closely upon his expressed belief that the blows that wounded Mrs. McDaniel had been left-handed. With Mr. Lockwood to aid him, he showed the jury how in his opinion, various wounds on the head might be made. He said his belief concerning the blows struck Mrs. McDaniel was based upon the nature of the wound and upon the fact that the right half of her skull was crushed.

Court Room is Crowded
The court room was crowded during the day. Judge Thomas F. Ryan, the trial judge made a special ruling permitting relatives of the indicted prosecuting attorney who would be called as witnesses to remain in the court room. Thruout the day, both Mrs. Sarah Moss and Miss Aileen Moss, mother and sister of the slain woman, remained seated on the state's side of the attorney's table.

No evidence was introduced in the trial today to show whether or not the accused man is right-handed or left-handed. Testimony at the coroner's inquest was intended to show that the prosecutor is left-handed.

Rome, via Paris, Nov. 18.—The Italian government has joined the other Entente Powers in protesting against the action of Germany in proclaiming Russian Poland an independent state. Premier Paolo Bonelli has sent a telegram to Premier Sturmer of Russia, in which he said: "The Italian nation has always nourished the most sympathetic feelings for the Polish people and we have full confidence that the victory of the Allied armies will foil the illusory plan formed by our enemies in contempt of the laws of nations and conventions in force."

"The royal government can only rejoice at the declarations already made by the imperial government guaranteeing the autonomy of the United Polish peoples which has been the secular ideal of that noble nation."

PATHOLOGIST ASSERTS DIEMER GIRL DROWNED

Dr. Hoktoen Announces Result of Second Autopsy

Chicagoan Found No Dislocation of Neck and No Fracture of Skull as at First Reported—Dead Girl's Hands and Other Aspects of Body All Indicative of Drowning.

PONTIAC, Ill., Nov. 18.—Christine Diemer, whose body was taken from the river here Nov. 8th, and whose father, mother and sister had been held on suspicion of having been implicated in the cause of her death, was drowned, in the opinion of Dr. Ludwig H. Hoktoen, pathologist of the University of Chicago, who held a second autopsy over her remains today.

Dr. Hoktoen found there had been no dislocation of the neck and no fracture of the skull as had been reported after the first autopsy as a result of which county officials decided the young woman had been murdered.

"There was absolutely no evidence of violence anywhere on the body," said Dr. Hoktoen, "and there was evidence of drowning."

The dead girl's hands, he said, and other aspects of the body all were indicative of drowning. The girl's body was taken from the river after she had been missing since Oct. 27th. Her father, a wealthy retired farmer, declared his daughter had disappeared after a quarrel when he had declined to let her visit Florida unless accompanied by a relative. Both parents said they thought the girl, who had means of her own, had disobeyed them and had gone to Florida.

After the first post-mortem examination it was announced her neck had been broken and that the evidence was she had not drowned. Her relatives then were held on suspicion of having caused her death.

GREEN COUNTY ORCHARDS HAVE GREAT CROP

Apples to Value of $200,000 Shipped From One Farm—Democrats Proud of Their Vote.

Carrollton, Nov. 18.—Mrs. W. E. Hammond of San Diego, Cal., is here visiting her sister, Mrs. Henry Schafer.

Congressman and Mrs. Henry T. Rainey will depart for Washington in a few days.

The McClay orchards in the town of Patterson in Green county from July 11 to Nov. 7 shipped out 302 car loads of apples. It is estimated they brought in $250,000. E. E. Williams, cashier of the Bank of Calhoun county, was here yesterday. He estimated that the apple crop in Calhoun county this year brought into that county $500,000.

The corn crop is being gathered in Greene county. It is rather light but is selling for 80 to 85 cents per bushel.

Greene county Democrats take pleasure in informing the Democrats of Morgan that they gave Woodrow Wilson a majority of 2750 on Nov. 7.

Jersey county gave a majority of 73 against Gov. Dunne and Editor Ives Page can not explain how it happened.

L. M. Harwood, a well known resident of this city shot and killed himself in the bar of the Mineral Springs hotel in Alton Wednesday morning. His rash act is attributable to the use of intoxicating liquor. He was 54 years old and leaves a wife and two children.

Ex-Congressman T. J. Selby has erected a residence on the bluff north of the village of Hardin and has moved into it. It is 300 feet above the village and gives him a grand view up and down the river and over into Greene and Jersey counties. He is now a higher up.

The "Perry House" in Hardin is closed for the first time in over 60 years. It was opened over 60 years ago by Andrew Uhrig and was known as the "Uhrig House." In it was opened the first beer saloon ever opened in Calhoun county and in it from its opening was conducted a saloon until the woman was given the privilege of voting at local option elections. That ended the saloon.

WAVERLY WON GOOD GAME FROM PAWNEE

In a hard and fast gridiron contest Saturday afternoon Waverly defeated Girard with a score of 18 to 0. The ball was in Girard territory most of the time but fumbles on the part of Waverly kept the score from being larger. Parkinson and Woods, Waverly half backs, played a great offensive game and the line held well on defense. The Waverly players did not get to going in best form until the last half when they made two touchdowns in quick succession.

In a recent game between Girard and Pawnee the former won 14 to 6 and earlier in the season Pawnee defeated Waverly with a score of 3 to 0. The game Saturday therefore indicated that the Waverly team has improved wonderfully as the season has advanced. Waverly's next game will be with Auburn on Thanksgiving. A hard contest is probable but the Waverly players expect to win.

BRITISH ATTACK ON GERMAN LINE FAILS

Assault is Made On Both Sides of Ancre River

Fighting is Still in Progress Near Grandcourt—Berlin Military Authorities Expect Transylvanian Campaign to be Scene of Decision in the War.

The British army delivered another assault on the German lines in both sides of the Ancre river today in what is described by the German war office as another attempt to break thru. The attack, preceded by enormous artillery activity failed, according to the German announcement. The fighting is still in progress near Grandcourt, south of the Ancre. This action followed British advances northeast of Beaumont-Hamel and north of Becourt last night, according to the British announcement. French attacks near Sully-Sailly last night broke down under the German fire, according to the German report. On the other hand the French report a repulse of an attack by a strong German detachment on the French trenches at Biaches.

Military authorities in Berlin are quoted as saying that the southwestern theater of war, the Transylvanian campaign is to be the scene of a decision in the war, not the Russian nor the western front. The German troops in Western Wallachia are reported by Berlin to be making good progress and scoring further gains in the Alt and Jiu Valleys. The Roumanians announced that violent fighting continues in those two valleys but say they made progress near Dragoslavele.

The Serbian and French continue to close in upon Monastir, the important objective on the western Macedonian front. Serbians report the capture of trenches east of the Cerna, while the French reached the outskirts of Genana.

Berlin, however, declares entente attacks on the plains south of Monastir were defeated with heavy losses and that the Germans recaptured a height taken by the Serbians near Cragel. New and violent fighting on the Macedonian front was reported from Berlin yesterday.

Only minor operations on the Russian front are reported by the German war office but the Russians claim they have driven back Austro-German attacks in the Carpathians.

A British army has defeated 6,000 Mohammedans, a warlike tribe in a battle on the boundary between India and Afghanistan.

A Zeppelin airship has been brought down by Russian troops near Sarny, southeast of Pinsk and the crew was captured, says Petrograd. A British column has relieved Malanga in German East Africa which had been invested by German troops.

WILL ASK FOR DELEGATES TO PEACE CONFERENCE

Movement for Peace Negotiations Beginning to Assume Definite Shape.

Berlin, Nov. 18.—via London, Nov. 18.—The movement for peace negotiations, according to reports from "the Swiss frontier" which were printed by the Koelnische Zeitung, is about to assume definite shape in the form of a joint call from various neutral governments to the belligerents asking them to send delegates to a peace conference.

The reports assert that several European neutrals are already in touch with the American government and that various belligerents have been sounded on the proposition of a conference.

According to this story the conference would necessarily open its sittings without an armistice being proclaimed. Interruption of hostilities coming only after it was established that the negotiations were apt to be crowned with success.

QUINCY LOST GAME TO JACKSONVILLE HIGH

Final Score 39 to 16—Fast Playing In First Half Brought Victory to Winning Team.

Quincy, Ill., Nov. 18.—(Special)—Jacksonville high scored 39 points today while Quincy was getting but 16. There were many forward passes and punting was resorted to time and again. Just two minutes and 35 seconds after the game was started Howard Reynolds took the ball over the line for Jacksonville's first touch down.

The game was devoid of any spectacular plays with one exception when Quincy held for downs on their one yard line. Jacksonville received one penalty for unnecessary roughness. The score at the end of the first half was 36 to nothing, for Jacksonville and it was during the second half that Quincy came back and out played the visitors.

SIX PLAYS OF SHAW

A list of six plays of George Bernard Shaw, the English dramatist, have been suggested to those who wish to be well prepared for the lecture by Prof. Otto Heller at the Strawn Memorial building Wednesday, December 13. These plays may be obtained at the public library. The list includes "Candida," "Man and Superman," "The Devil's Disciple," "The Doctor's Dilemma," "Getting Married," and "Major Barbara." It is urged that no one slight the prefaces, as they contain some of the choicest bits of Shawian philosophy. "Fabian Essays" has been added to the list as a representative prose work of Mr. Shaw.

AN OLD PICTURE

H. C. Montgomery, superintendent of the School for the Blind, recently found in a desk there two photographs which he was showing yesterday to interested persons. They were taken in 1873 near the corner of the public square and South Main street and show the great assemblage of people attending the funeral of Richard Yates, governor of Illinois. J. S. Anderson, father of S. T. Anderson, is standing in a position where he is easily recognizable and the late F. M. Springer is seated on one of the funeral carriages. Many others can also be recognized among the earlier citizens of Jacksonville.

LOST BOY'S BODY IS FOUND ON LAKE SHORE

Remains of "Sonny" Matthews, Missing From His Home in Chicago Since February, Washed Ashore by Lake.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 18.—The body of nine-year old Cyril "Sonny" Matthews, who was lost from his home nine months ago was washed ashore by Lake Michigan today. Search for the boy had been kept up continuously by his parents and by schoolmates but no word had ever been known of his fate until today. The boy's father, Barnett Matthews, identified the body by means of the clothing and the teeth.

Cyprus hands, kidnapping claws, and every influence that might have had to do with the boy's disappearance have been investigated during his absence. Rewards have been offered and scores of detectives have been constantly on the search with out avail.

The body was found by a former playmate of the little fellow who was wandering along the Lake Shore, and its recovery, the police believe has intensified rather than solved the mystery of his disappearance.

Altho the child's clothing had been whirled to shreds and the water had terribly affected the body, it is not believed possible it had been in the lake since his disappearance Feb. 10th.

Numerous letters received by the parents now make them incline to the belief that the boy was held by kidnapers who finally made away with him in fear of detection. The last of the letters came on October 31st. It was enclosed in a cheap brown envelope and in an old fashioned hand was written "Sonny Matthews died the twenty first day he was lost."

Four days after the child disappeared the first letter came. It read:

Mail three one hundred dollar bills and one fifty dollar bill to the following address and receive your child, not the worst for his experience. Mr. K. E. White, 919 West Madison St., City. Say nothing to the police. It will do no good as we have a systematic way of getting your reply. Mail it in a plain envelope, K. E. W., by not later than Wednesday, 16th at 4 p. m.

The address failed to reveal the writer and letters to White were returned.

WORLD MUST OBSERVE RIGID FOOD ECONOMY

International Institute of Agriculture Issues Extensive Report.

Rome, Nov. 18.—Rigid economy throughout the world in the consumption of food, in view of the deficient crops and the extraordinary requirements of the European armies, is urged by the International Institute of Agriculture which has made the most extensive report it had issued since the war began. The institute says all nations are confronted with a grave situation.

It is estimated that at least 2,300,000,000 bushels of wheat will be consumed in the year ending July 31, 1917 and that at the end of this period the world's surplus supplies of wheat will have decreased to 46,000,000 bushels. The report says it is only on account of the fact that last year's harvests were abundant, leaving a balance of 250,000,000 bushels, that there is available sufficient wheat for the year ending with next July.

Kansas Women Strong for Office.

Women certainly have come into their own in Kansas and if any one doubts the interest which suffragists show in election matters they should study the result in the Sunflower state. There are now 151 women in the state holding office. Forty eight of them are county superintendents of schools, forty six are registrars of deeds, twenty five district clerks, fifteen county treasurers, five county clerks and two probate judges. It is the unusual county now in Kansas which does not have a woman official and there are only seventeen in the list. After women get to holding office a little longer their ranks will probably be just as much torn asunder by factional differences as is true of male voters. When that time comes the male population will be able to secure a larger share of the offices once more.

The latest trouble along the Mexican border is the report that the pink boll worm, known as the worst of the enemies to the cotton industry, has been discovered there. The danger calls for a united effort to prevent this pest from gaining a foothold in Texas and the other southern states. Should this united effort be unavailing citizens of the United States will begin to think that the Mexican troubles are of the unending kind.

Another Way to Conserve the Food Supply

Because of the continued high prices for grain the talk of an embargo still continues but it is not given very serious consideration by those who look upon the subject from a broad viewpoint. To place such an embargo on wheat and corn might lower the price at home but it would also bring to pass death by starvation to thousands across the sea. Alderman Nance of Chicago has made a suggestion along this line which will not be received with special favor by certain interests in the country, and that is that the United States follow the lead of European countries and, during the war at least, put the ban on the manufacture of liquor.

This, according to the alderman's figures, would make it possible to divert millions upon millions of dollars' worth of grain and other food products from the liquor channels into more helpful lines. These are the alderman's figures:

Barley	$55,236,641
Corn	30,924,355
Wheat	$69,938
Rice	7,288,786
Rye	4,604,436

While there is commercial danger in the after the war conditions it is acknowledged that in some lines and instances that trade relations between this and foreign countries will be more intimate than in the past and there may be even an enlarged business. An indication of this possibility is seen in the authority given the National City bank of New York by the Russian government to establish a branch in Petrograd. Relations are such now that this bank is needed and financial men who have looked into the situation believe that in Russia at least there will be still greater demand for American made products because the introduction of American made goods has created a demand which will outlive the war.

Time for Serious Thought.

If the newspaper correspondent, who traveled with President Wilson immediately following the news of the president's election triumph fully appreciates Mr. Wilson's attitude, citizens without regard to party alignment will approve. Here are the correspondent's words:

"Those close to the president are of the belief that he is not overpleased with the brass band, red-fire type of celebration. He enjoys meeting the people and is delighted to have them come out in such numbers to congratulate him, but he is known to feel that with the campaign over this should be a time for serious thought and concert of purpose to meet critical problems to come. Under these circumstances, while himself deeply gratified over his triumph at the polls, he does not wish to be traveling about the country to the constant accompaniment of blaring brass bands and similar theatrical demonstrations of a purely partisan nature. He feels that despite the natural attitude that comes with victory, every effort should now be made to heal the breaches widened by the bitter features of the recent contest."

Overwork Brings Excesses.
A switchman testifying at the New York hearing before the arbitration board declared that long hours increased intemperance among the men. His theory was that the switchmen, because of over-fatigue and lack of time for recreation naturally fell into the drink habit as a means of stimulation or because of the convivial company. The argument is sound too, for many a man who has no thought of becoming a regular user of liquor drinks his first drink because he is over-tired or because he is lonesome. Switchmen have a good deal of sympathy from the public in their effort to secure an eight hour day. That sympathy is founded partially upon the testimony of the men and partially because they have been willing to submit their cause to arbitration.

Trying to Name Shanahan.
Letters are in circulation among Republican members of the Illinois general assembly asking them to attend a conference in Chicago next Wednesday for the purpose of pledging support to David E. Shanahan for re-election as speaker. Mr. Shanahan was chosen speaker in the last general assembly after weeks of unprofitable delay. He is an able executive officer and his ruling gave the members and legislation a fair

FARM CHAMPIONS

The wrestlers and the fighters, and baseball heroes, too, are boomed by sporting writers, the whole long twelve months through. But they are sordid suckers, who for the boodle play; I sing the champion suckers, who hush four loads a day! When corn is ripe and yellow, and keen the autumn air, the active farmer fellow goes forth to hush his share. If he shucks bushels eighty, between the dawn and dusk, he's made a record weighty, and he can surely hush. His fame goes down to zero, and he must bow before the shining cornfield hero, with forty bushels more! I've seen the champion shucker, who won a township fame, in his best bib and tucker, enjoying men's acclaim. He has no use for medals, no loving cups he needs, and he puts on soft pedals when talking of his deeds. No sporting scribe indorses, and no promoter knows this gent who drives his horses adown the long corn rows, and beats the rival suckers because he likes to win—they boost the prize ring muckers, who reek of dope and gin.

deal. Whether it is Mr. Shanahan or someone else, the Republican members should agree on a nominee before the assembly convenes and then have the election over as quickly as possible and the actual business of the assembly begun.

It is going to be a long hard winter the nimrods tell us because the rabbits have such heavy fur coats. Out on the farms the corn ears can be seen protruding from the husks. On other ears the husks are loose and this is a certain indication, the farmers tell us, that this is to be an open mild winter. You can pay your money and take your choice.

OILED VS. HARD ROADS SUBJECT AT MEETING

Taxpayers of County Will be Urged to Give Free Expression at Gathering of Clerks and Commissioners at Court House Dec. 2.

The comparative value of oiled roads and hard roads will be the subject for discussion Saturday, Dec. 2, when the Morgan county association of highway commissioners and clerks will hold the annual meeting which, for the first time, will be open to the public. Good roads themes have naturally been discussed at each meeting of the commissioners' association, but this time it was thought that more profit might be derived from a public meeting at which all phases of the question could be freely considered.

The meeting will be called to order at 1 o'clock at the county court house. H. H. Bancroft, Thomas Worthington and Carl W. Weber will be among the speakers.

Fried chicken dinner, 35c plate, 11:30 to 2. Hall's Cafe.

MAKING DIMES AND DOLLARS GO FURTHER

One way to economize, but which is not possible for every consumer is to buy in quantities. There are many articles of food which necessarily come at a high rate if purchased a pound or two at a time instead of ten or twelve pound lots. The same thing applies to various canned and package goods. To buy a dozen is often cheaper than buying one or two. In making these purchases it frequently happens that the purchaser who is ready with the cash is able to get a little more for his money.

Paying cash is another matter that is not always possible but when the time comes that the merchant is able to do the bulk of his business for cash then lower prices will certainly prevail. The merchant who does an extensive credit business is sure to sustain losses on bad accounts and any one knows who thinks about it that the merchant must charge enough to the customers who do pay in order to offset the losses which come from the bad accounts. Otherwise the merchant who suffered losses would certainly be compelled to go out of business.

John Dill Robertson, health commissioner, of Chicago, who has started a high cost of living investigation with view to showing Chicagoans how to live on 40 cents a day, is planning a "diet squad" to prove his contention that 40 cents a day is sufficient for good and wholesome food.

Dr. Robertson proposes selecting twelve persons from his department who shall be fed for two weeks on a diet recommended by him. Weight and general conditions of the subjects are to be taken before and after the period of dieting. Six men and six women will comprise the "diet squad" a room at the Health Department will be utilized and food and a cook will be provided by the department.

"There is no reason why people shouldn't live on 40 cents a day, and I propose demonstrating the fact," the doctor said. "I once fed my family of eight for five days on $3.81. I recommend New England boiled dinners and mush and milk to cut down the cost of living."

One of the best plans for economizing in fuel is to cook a double portion of a great many ordinary dishes, such as potatoes, desserts and meats. For instance, a double quantity of steak is cut up and stewed at the same time. Part of this can be served hot with vegetables and the rest made into a meat loaf or used with a crust. If a double portion of potatoes are boiled, half can be used hot and the rest can be creamed, scalloped, browned au gratin, etc.

To use left over baked beans, warm the beans slightly and force them thru a puree strainer. To this bean puree add an equal amount of canned tomato soup prepared as for serving. Serve this with saltines or other crisp crackers. Excellent for luncheon or supper.

Instead of throwing away the mayonnaise when it curdles try the following: Into a clean bowl put two scant tablespoons of water and a little cornstarch. Take the egg-beater out of the curdled dressing, and without washing it beat in the bowl with water, then add very slowly, beating all the time the curdled mixture. The result will be a smooth dressing.

Left over oat meal, hominy, cracked wheat or other cereals are an improvement when added to ordinary pancake batter.

Cold rice can be made into croquettes or mixed with left over meat and eggs and fried like an omelet.

When small quantities of two or three vegetables are left over combine them with dressing for a salad.

It will be found that squash steamed in the meat roaster will cook in far less time and will be much richer than when steamed on top of the stove. Cut the squash into three inch pieces and put in the pan with a few tablespoonsful of water to prevent burning.

Cotton crepe makes very inexpensive dish towels. These require no hemming and do not need to be ironed.

Save all nutmeg scraps too small to grate and put them thru a coffee mill or the butter blade of a food chopper.

A small quantity of boiled or roast meat may be utilized in the following manner and will prove a very tempting dish. Chop or grind the meat, add a thick gravy and a few bread crumbs and season and onion if liked. Take about a cupful of yellow corn meal, pour boiling water on it until of the consistency of thick batter and beat until slightly cool. To this batter add salt, pepper and chili powder. Butter a small baking dish, line with a thin layer of the corn meal mixture, put in the meat and the remainder of the corn meal, cover and bake or steam.

Before sending for the plumber when pipes are clogged try the following: a tablespoonful of washing soda and a cup of vinegar poured down the sink.

Scraps of bread may be used in a number of ways. Pieces too small to be served as toast may be cut into croutons for garnishing or to be served with soup, or used for bread pudding. Brown Betty or stuffings; or the crumb separated from the crust and dried, rolled, sifted and placed in glass jars until needed for breading croquettes, chops, etc.

Another use for stale bread whether rye, graham or wheat: Roast it in the oven until thoroughly brown, grind it in the food chopper, using the coarse knife, and use as a breakfast food. Kept in a tin can, such as coffee comes in, will be crisp and fresh for an indefinite time.

Still another way to use stale bread is in Welliesley toast. Cut in one fourth inch slices and remove crusts, then cut in two and one half inch squares. Toast slightly on both sides. Work three tablespoonsful of butter until creamy, add gradually 2 tablespoonsful of brown sugar mixed with 1 teaspoonful of cinnamon. Spread toast with mixture, arrange on a tin sheet and place in oven or under gas flame until mixture bubbles up.

The Stratford Company will present the famous opera at Liberty Hall Monday night under auspices of the Knights of Columbus. This distinguished company, under the direction of Lulu Hatfield Solomon, is composed of artists of long and exceptionally successful Lyceum and Chautauqua experience. It has been truly said of them, "They come with a smile, and go with a smile." Their programs, never "heavy," or "tuneless," are nevertheless replete with selections from the best of the world's best music both sacred and secular. An evening spent with The Stratford Company has proved a delight to hundreds of audiences all over America.

This is the first of a series of four attractions to be given.

SAYS WESTERN FARMERS UNDER-ESTIMATED CROPS

LATEST CONTRIBUTION OF INVESTIGATION IN NEW YORK.

Commissioner of Weights and Measures Asserts Government Estimate Was Based on Farmers' Report and That 25 Percent of Crop was Concealed.

New York, Nov. 18.—An assertion that western farmers underestimated their crops in reports submitted to the federal government and thereby forced up the price of wheat, potatoes, onions and cabbages, is the last contribution to the "high cost of food" investigation here. The charge is made by Joseph Hartigan, commissioner of weights and measures, who has just returned from a tour of twenty nine states undertaken to determine the reason for the high cost of living, and incidentally, to complete arrangements for a farmers' congress to be held here in February.

Mr. Hartigan's investigation convinced him, he said, that the government estimate of wheat crop in this country this year was based on statistics furnished by the farmers, who "knowingly concealed at least 25 per cent of their wheat crops." According to Mr. Hartigan, this surplus has been held in reserve to be dumped into the market, supposedly short many millions of bushels, at a price otherwise unobtainable.

"I do not charge the farmers with being out and out dishonest," declared Mr. Hartigan, "but the least that can be said of them is that their action is unpatriotic. They are doing the same thing in many parts of the country in regard to potatoes, cabbages and onions. I have not the slightest doubt that if these reserve supplies were released we would have considerably less about crop shortages, and the cost of these farm products would be reduced to the retail purchaser at least 25 per cent from the prices now prevailing."

CROSS BILL FILED IN GIBBS LAND CASE

Widow Seeks to Establish Rights of Homestead in City Property.

Recently J. O. Priest as attorney for William K. Gibbs et al., filed a partition suit directed against Mrs. Mary Emma Gibbs and Wayne F. Gibbs. As attorneys for the defendants in the original suit Worthington Reeve & Green yesterday filed a cross bill. The complainants in the original suit were William K. Gibbs and Callie Gibbs, his wife, Ellsworth C. Gibbs and Etta M. Gibbs, his wife; Harriet E. Denhof and John R. Denhof her husband; Leland E. Gibbs and Carrie M. Gibbs, and Clara F. Gibbs.

It was shown in the original bill that Mr. Gibbs had been owner of various tracts of land aggregating 362.21 acres. It was shown that William K. Gibbs, Ellsworth C. Gibbs, Harriet E. Denhof, Leland E. Gibbs, Carrie M. Gibbs, Clara F. Gibbs each owned one-seventh interest in this property, subject to the dower interest of Mrs. Mary Emma Gibbs, the widow of their father. In his lifetime under date of April 15, 1916, the late Charles Gibbs made a deed to his children reserving to himself the possession, rents, etc., during his lifetime. It was stated that it was his intention to marry Mrs. Emma Robinson and that he would reserve for his intended wife an annuity in the sum of $500 annually to begin at his death and continue for her lifetime. The deed was made April 15 and the marriage occurred April 20. The complainants in the original bill set forth that they were desirous that the dower interest of Mrs. Gibbs be assigned and set off to her and that a division of the real estate described be made among the owners.

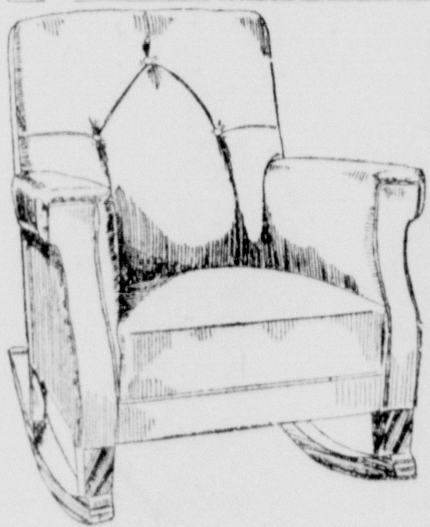

In the cross bill filed by Mrs. Gibbs' attorneys the facts already related are set forth and affirmed and in addition the claim is made that the real estate was not all of the estate of Mr. Gibbs in that at the time of his death he was the owner of a residence property in Dunlap's first addition to the city of Jacksonville and located on City Place. This was the homestead of Mr. Gibbs and the cross complainant therefore maintains that she is entitled to homestead rights in this tract of land. It is to secure Mrs. Gibbs' rights in the city real estate that the cross bill has been brought, as the children of Mr. Gibbs in bringing their partition suit have claimed that Mrs. Gibbs was not entitled to dower interest in the farm lands.

The Instrument You Were Born to Play

HERE IS an instrument that requires only a natural love of music—

the mere inborn desire for musical expression common to all—to respond to you as the piano responds to a talented artist.

The Manualo

The Player-Piano that is all but human is played beautifully by anybody who loves music because its expression is controlled from the pedals. Each pedal stroke does not merely make certain notes strike but it makes them sound with the exact volume and accent which your musical feeling desires. The force and style of the stroke are transmitted from the pedals to the piano strings as the striking of the artist's fingers is transmitted from the keys to the strings. It is as if the performer were in direct contact with the piano action, so sensitive is the Manualo mechanism to his subtlest wish.

Come in, try this remarkable instrument and get the book, "The A B C of the Manualo."

BELIEVE EXCHANGE RATES MUST FAIL

Civil Engineers Representing American International Corporation Makes Report on Investigations.

Rome, Italy, Nov. — (Correspondence of The Associated Press)—James Francis Case, a civil engineer representing the American International Corporation in Italy and Spain, has just completed his first inspection of business possibilities in Italy. One general conclusion he has drawn is that American firms should do all possible to lower the present high rates of exchange with the conclusion of the war.

Said Mr. Case to a correspondent of The Associated Press: "It has been widely stated that American business in Europe will suffer after the war from the high value of the dollar, as compared to other money, forcing these nations to buy from each other or go without what they need. For instance, let us consider a pair of American shoes worth four dollars of our money. Before the war four dollars were worth just over twenty lire, whereas now these four dollars are worth twenty-six lire. For all that the lire has still the same buying power in Italy, or in Russia, and even more in Austria or Germany, where the mark has depreciated. Naturally, if an Italian can buy a pair of shoes in another country where his lire has a better value than in the United States, he is going to do so.

"The solution of this exchange problem is inducing these countries to send us their goods to increase their trading with us. The reason the exchange is now high is not so much that Europe's credit is bad with us, that we have no faith in her future prosperity; it is because we are not receiving as much goods from her as before the war.

"I have no fear, however, that American business will be seriously handicapped in Europe by our higher exchange. Take Russia. Her ruble has lost a third of its value merely because she cannot get her wheat and other products to market. So soon as the war is over, these goods will go to market and her ruble will go to its old place."

Regarding Italy's business future, Mr. Case said: "Italy does not enjoy the credit she should. She is a wealthy country and my principal reason for making this statement is that any country is bound to be wealthy which has an honest, thrifty hard-working population such as she is blessed with. We Americans do not appreciate the fact that she is in reality a young country, that she has not been united for more than thirty years to the date of her union runs back to 1870.

"At present I do not find much inclination to consider new business in Italy, because every mind is still pre-occupied by the war. But so soon as it is out of the way, Italy will become a fine field for Americans, not only for retail business but for big public improvements, like the electrification of roads to eliminate expensive coal bills, and the establishment of more electric power plants for factories.

"The American should find a ready market here and he will receive because as a rule the Italians know more about our country and its products than we do about Italy."

Examine Your TEETH Tonight

—after you clean them.

You will find, in all probability, an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding between the crevices. YOUR DENTIFRICE does not FULLY CLEAN! Loss of teeth is caused usually by one of two conditions—Pyorrhea or decay, both of which develop, as a rule, only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present.

SENRECO, the recently discovered formula of a dental specialist, is two-fold in its action. First, it REALLY CLEANS, embodying specially prepared, soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Second, it is particularly destructive to the germ of Pyorrhea. Yet it is perfectly safe, containing neither injurious chemicals nor hard grit.

Avoid Pyorrhea and decay. Get Senreco from your dealer today. In large tubes, 25c. Send 4c to Senreco, 304 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio, for liberal-sized trial package.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE

AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH
On Monday evening, Nov. 20th, at 7:45 in the Central Christian church the second of a series of illustrated addresses will be given by the pastor, M. L. Pontine. The theme will be, "The Battle for Health." The subject will be illustrated with fifty stereoscopic slides and one set of motion pictures. This is not an entertainment but is calculated to be of great educational value. The pictures have been carefully selected and the address will be based upon facts that have been gathered with scientific care. A general invitation is extended to the public to attend this service. SPECIAL INSTRUCTION AT

WOMAN'S COLLEGE
This is a good time to take up special work. The second quarter begins November 20, and work may begin in organ, piano, violin, voice, etc., also in china painting, leather work drawing and painting, expression or elocution, public speaking and in cooking and sewing.

There are scores of girls and young women in Jacksonville, who ought to be developing their special abilities in some of these directions. It is greatly worth while. The College offers unusual advantages. Call at the office or by phone, and arrange for lessons.

ATTENTION G. A. R.

Members of Matt Starr Post No. 378, Grand Army of the Republic, are requested to meet at the post hall at 2 P. M. Monday for the purpose of attending the funeral of our comrade John P. Ransdell.

SHURTLEFF EASY FOR I. C. PLAYERS

ALTON MEN DEFEATED HERE BY SCORE OF 47 TO 0.

Second String Players Numerous on Local Team—Practically All Playing Done in Shurtleff's Territory.

Illinois College romped over Shurtleff on Illinois field Saturday afternoon, the final score being 47 to 0. It is probable that had Haran used his first string men thruout the game the score would have been twice forty-seven to nothing.

Shurtleff which used to boast of one of the strongest teams in the "Little Nineteen" conference had one of the weakest teams ever seen on Illinois field. It was not until near the close of the first quarter that a single play was tried. The visitors when they did accidentally get hold of the ball contended themselves with punting it out of danger.

All of the playing was done in Shurtleff's territory except on the kickoff. They kicked off most of the time but Illinois soon rushed the ball back to Shurtleff's field. Only three quarters were played the game being called at the end of the third quarter in order that Shurtleff could catch the Chicago and Alton afternoon train for home.

All of the Illinois men showed up well. Pierce ran the team at quarter and made long gains thru the line and around the ends. Spink and Jones plunged thru the line time and again for substantial gains and "Jimmy" Barnes showed that he is going to make one of the greatest players Illinois ever had. Barnes proved a great open field runner and made many long gains. Mitchell received a forward pass and ran for a touchdown and Reiter also received several pretty forward passes as did Barnes. When the game closed Illinois had in almost an entire team of substitutes with Wilson running the team.

First Quarter.
Shurtleff kicked to Pierce on the goal line and he carried the ball back to the 35 yard line. Then with Pierce and Spink carrying the ball it was worked down the field to the five yard line where Mitchell went over on a tackle around play for the touchdown. Conklin kicked goal. Score Illinois 7, Shurtleff 0.

Shurtleff again kicked off. Whistler receiving the ball and carrying it to Illinois' 49 yard line. With Barnes, Pierce and Spink carrying the ball it was soon on Shurtleff's eight yard line. Here Spink fumbled and Shurtleff recovered the ball. Shurtleff punted from her goal line to Whistler who was downed on Shurtleff's 35 yard line. Pierce, Barnes and Spink with line plunges and end runs carried the ball down the field. Spink finally going over for a touchdown. Conklin kicked goal. Score Illinois 14, Shurtleff 0.

Illinois kicked to Shurtleff on her own five yard line and the ball was downed on the 14 yard line. Shurtleff immediately punted to Barnes, who carried the ball back to Shurtleff's 49 yard line. Pierce then punted to Mitchell for 25 yards and he ran 20 yards for a touchdown. Conklin failed to kick goal. Score Illinois 20, Shurtleff 0.

Illinois kicked to Shurtleff on the 15 yard line and Barnes downed the runner on the 25 yard line. Spink intercepted a forward pass on the 20 yard line. Illinois made first down when time was called for the quarter.

Second Quarter.
It was Illinois' ball on Shurtleff's 10 yard line. Pierce made 10 yards around the end and Jones went thru for a touchdown. Jones lost the ball and Zink fell on it but the referee's whistle already had sounded so Jones is given credit for the touchdown. Conklin failed to kick goal. Score Illinois 26, Shurtleff 0.

Shurtleff kicked off and Illinois carried the ball back to the 30 yard line. Pierce made 15 yards and Barnes made two yards and then got away for 25 yards. Jones made six yards thru the line and then added four more and on the next attempt made first down. Illinois got her signals crossed and lost two yards. Illinois then tried several forward passes and lost the ball on downs on Shurtleff's eight yard line.

Shurtleff punted to Whistler who carried the ball back to Shurtleff's 25 yard line. Pierce made five yards and Conklin made first down on a tackle around play. Barnes then made first down on two tries and put the ball on Shurtleff's five yard line. Jones went over on the next play for a touchdown. Conklin kicked goal. Score Illinois 33, Shurtleff 0.

Shurtleff kicked to Jones who carried the ball back to the 37 yard line. Illinois made first down and a bad pass was made which lost two yards. Jones made eight yards and then another bad pass lost 15 yards. Barnes punted to Shurtleff and the runner was downed in his tracks on the 22 yard line. Shurtleff then tried her second play of the game, making one yard thru the line. Shurtleff punted and Illinois had made three first downs when time was called for the half.

Third Quarter.
Shurtleff kicked to Pierce on Illinois' five yard line and he carried the ball back to the 45 yard line. Illinois made four yards thru the line and then tried a forward pass which Shurtleff intercepted on her own 35 yard line. Shurtleff tried two passes which failed and then punted out of bounds on Illinois' 38 yard line. Illinois made 35 yards in which was a pretty run of 20 yards by Pierce on a double pass. Shurtleff then intercepted a forward pass on her own 25 yard line. At this point Reiter went in for Rendleman.

Shurtleff tried a pass which failed. Shurtleff fumbled and Illinois recovered on Shurtleff's 15 yard line. On the first play Pierce circled the end for a touchdown. Conklin kicked goal. Score Illinois 40, Shurtleff 0.

Shurtleff kicked to Jones on the five yard line and he carried it back to the 40 yard line. Barnes made nine yards and a pass was tried which failed. Jones then hit the line for six yards making first down. Pierce passed to Reiter for 30 yards and then passed to the same player for 3 yards. Illinois was penalized fifteen yards for holding. Pierce then passed to Barnes for 30 yards, putting the ball on Shurtleff's ten yard line. On two tries Jones went over for a touchdown and Conklin kicked goal. Score Illinois 47, Shurtleff 0.

Illinois kicked to Shurtleff and downed the ball on the 20 yard line. Shurtleff tried the line without success and punted to Wilson who carried the ball to Illinois' 35 yard line. Shurtleff held and it was her ball in the center of the field when time was called. The lineup:

SPORT NOTES

Harvard spends $153,000 a year for organized athletics. Yale $132,000 and Princeton $83,000.

Tom Murphy has been the leading money winner for six successive years on the big trotting circuits, his grand total for that period being $533,436.

It is rumored that Cliff Blankenship, deposed manager of the Salt Lake Baseball club, has purchased enough stock in the club to regain control.

Driscoll, captain of the Northwestern varsity football team, is a slashing line breaker and a remarkable kicker, yet he weighs only 143 pounds.

The stork recently paid a third visit to the home of those distinguished tennis players, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Bundy.

Rube Marquard and Larry Cheney will not have to worry during the winter over coming to terms with the Brooklyn club. Their present contracts hold until next fall.

Jack Read, the former Australian lightweight, who spent a year here boxing about the country, has just returned from Sydney and is located at Seattle.

St. Louis is planning a novelty in the way of a women's bowling tournament which will take place at the termination of the Midwest meet the latter part of this month.

Bills for legalizing boxing in New Jersey and Delaware will be introduced in the legislatures of the two states when they assemble in January.

Gilbert Gallant, the well known Boston lightweight, who has met all the best men of his weight in the country, has now joined the colony of boxers in Denver.

Outfielder Heatley, picked up by the Brewers' scouts from the Tulsa, Okla., club this summer and who was drafted by Detroit, has been awarded to the Milwaukee club by the National association.

The Nebraska Cornhuskers and the Missouri Tigers, the crack football teams of the Missouri valley, will not meet on the gridiron this year.

Chuck Yerger, the former Penn State halfback, is assisting Coach Mays, at Iowa State. Yerger is taking a special post-graduate course in dairying at the Iowa institution.

Ted Sullivan of Chicago baseball fame, has been selected to go to South America to make arrangements for the coming of the New York Giants, and Chicago Cubs in 1917.

Tommy Gibbons, brother of Mike, and Joe Herrick, the Kewanee batter, will clash in a return engagement at Winnipeg the latter part of this month. The weight is to be 160 pounds and the distance will be 12 rounds.

By his defeat of Ever Hammer in such a decisive manner at Kansas City, Denny Leonard, the New York lightweight, has placed himself in a position where Freddie Welsh will be obliged later on to give him a chance at the title over the marathon route. It is generally agreed that Leonard is one of the classiest lightweights in the country today.

ELECTION FIGURES ARE INTERESTING

Certain inequalities exist among the citizens of the United States in exercising their voting rights.

The following interesting article about the recent election is taken from the Chicago Post:

The late election afforded another striking illustration of the gross inequalities which exist among American citizens in the exercise of the most important and essential function of their citizenship. It is contended that the famous phrase "one Declaration of Independence did not mean and cannot be construed as meaning that men are created equal in all respects—in physical bulk or intellectual capacity or in any of numerous other particulars.

But it does carefully mean that they are equal in the rights of citizenship and in the sight of the law, and it has accordingly long been our boast that "on election day all men are equal, the rich and poor, the learned and the unlearned, each having one vote and no more."

Literally and technically that is quite true. In effect it is far from true. It is a fiction that in many states many men are practically disfranchised, with the result that a great inequality is created between those who do enjoy the franchise in those states and those who exercise it in other states. That inequality is not in the number of votes cast, but in the value of the votes. Each man continues to cast just one vote. But in many cases one vote has twice the value of another, and in some cases ten times the value. It is idle to speak of equality before the law and at the polls when one man has twice or four times the voting power of another.

Four Years Ago.

In the election of four years ago there were cast 15,036,342 ballots for 531 presidential electors. That meant an average of 28,222 votes for each elector. Each elector represented 28,222 citizens. Each citizen's ballot, therefore, was equal to 1-28,222nd part of an electoral vote.

But that average was midway between far separated extremes. Thus in California each elector represented no fewer than 51,809 voters, while in South Carolina each represented only 5,594 voters. The California elector represented more than ten times as many as the South Carolina elector. Thus, the California citizen's ballot was equal to only 1-51,809th of an electoral vote, while the South Carolinian's was equal to 1-5,594th of one. The South Carolinian has ten times the voting power of the Californian.

Applying the same figures to the election of this year, what do we find? In nine states which voted for Hughes the number of voters to each elector ranged from 30,569 to 43,341 while in nine which voted for Wilson it ranged from 5,594 to 11,444. Hughes receives 188 electoral votes, every one of which represents more than 30,000 voters, while Wilson receives 111 votes, every one of which represents fewer than 16,000. The lowest number of voters to one elector in any Hughes state is 15,579, while there are eleven Wilson states in which the number is below 15,000.

An Average State.

Massachusetts is pretty nearly an average state. In 1912 each of its electors represented 27,114 voters. It was manifestly unjust that, on the one hand, each Massachusetts voter should have 2.9 times the voting power of his fellow citizen of California, and, on the other, only one-fifth the voting power of his fellow citizen of South Carolina.

Exact equality is, of course, not to be attained. But most of these gross inequalities could and should be corrected. Some of them could not. Thus in the three states which this year voted for Hughes in which the ratio of voters to electors was lowest—Rhode Island, Vermont and Delaware—a low ratio is necessitated by the constitutional provision which gives to each state, even the smallest, at least three electors. But that condition applies to only three of the twelve states which have still lower ratios. Delaware, with only 18,694 voters, has three electors, or one to 16,231, because the Constitution compels it.

But there is no constitutional compulsion which requires South Carolina, with only 50,348 voters, to have nine electors, or one to only 5,594. So Nevada, with only 20,115 voters, must have three electors, but that does not justify Mississippi with 64,319 voters, in having ten electors.

No matter which party it hurts, there should be a correction of this injustice. It is a fine thing to enforce the principle "one man, one vote," the unhappily there are now many men with no vote. It is an equally fine and essential thing to enforce the principle "one vote, one value."

MANY GERMAN SOLDIERS WILL HAVE FURLONGHS

Purpose of New Order is to Give Men Chance for Farm Work—Communal Laundries Established in Russia as Aid to Poor.

Berlin, Nov. — (Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—This autumn is to be another furlough period for a good majority of the soldiers now in the field, for the ministry of war has issued an announcement whereby each troop commander has been instructed to send men home as fast as he possibly can spare them.

The first men to go, many of whom are now on leave, are those who in normal peace times are farmers or are employed on farms. They are needed of course for the second harvest. When they get back to the front men in all sorts of other walks of life will be sent back home, those who are married being given the preference.

The minister of war especially asks commanders to give furloughs wherever possible to men who have been in the field continuously for a year, regardless of their married or single state. The plan, it is believed, will make it possible for almost every soldier to face the coming winter campaign more or less fresh from a rest at home.

Vilna, Russia, Nov. — Because the price of soaps and such necessities for washing as starch, borax and the like, has increased beyond the reach of the poor people, it is proposed to establish in Vilna a number of "communal laundries" for patronage by those who cannot afford to pay dearly for cleanliness.

Just how much the local inhabitants have been able to do for themselves, thru the agency of twenty-five "Achiester Societies" or institutions of brotherly help, is indicated by the six months' report of the main organization, just issued.

According to this report the twenty-five branch societies in all the portions of Vilna took in during the last half year just over fifteen thousand dollars and expended a little more than sixteen thousand dollars in helping a total of 50,000 persons.

NOTABLE BIRTHDAYS TODAY.

(November 19.)

"Billy" Sunday, the famous evangelist, who is now converting wicked Boston, drawing immense crowds daily to his tabernacle, is 53 years old today. Mr. Sunday went to Boston fresh from conducting an evangelistic campaign of several weeks in Detroit, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Kansas City and Pittsburgh, and among other large centers where he has preached to multitudes, and Chicago and New York are making arrangements to secure his services. William Ashley Sunday was born in Ames, Iowa, of Pennsylvania Dutch ancestry, the family name having originally been Sontag. He was first a professional baseball player, and a very good one, hence the title of "baseball evangelist" which has clung to him for years. In 1891 he became assistant secretary of the Chicago Y. M. C. A., filled that post for four years and then went on the road with J. Wilbur Chapman, the evangelist, as his agent. In 1896 he began to preach, and has since been engaged continuously in evangelistic services and meeting with remarkable success. He is a regularly ordained minister of the Presbyterian church, ordained by Chicago Presbytery in 1903, and Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa., has conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Divinity. He resides at Wilona, Ind.

He expects to conduct afternoon and evening services in the big tabernacle and will pass the remainder of the day in company with his family and a few intimate friends in the spacious mansion occupied by the evangelist's party in Commonwealth avenue.

OHIO VALLEY EXPOSITION.

During the period of the exposition there will be held a series of conferences to consider problems relating to the further development of the Ohio Valley region.

BRITISH WIDOWS TO FIND NEW HOMES

London, Nov. — (Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—A scheme which has been under consideration for some time by the Salvation Army is now complete for transferring British widows with their families to the Overseas Dominions and to increase facilities for the migration of other women desiring to go to Dominions when the war is over, and the abnormal demand for female labor is exhausted.

In a recent issue of the "War Cry" General Booth intimates a fund of one million dollars should be raised, and $350,000 has already been subscribed. The Public Trustee has agreed to act as treasurer of the fund, and the sum asked for should secure the settlement of five thousand widows and ten thousand children. The work, which requires careful and gradual preparation on this side, as well as in the Dominions for the proper settlement of the families, would be conducted over a period of five years.

Close cooperation between the Salvation Army and the Dominion governments is already assured, several of the states have already come forward with offers of active support, and special representatives are being despatched to the colonies at once.

General Booth points out that under the scheme, worthy widows living in oppressive or unsatisfactory environments, can be transferred, free of cost to themselves, to progressive overseas communities where there is more elbow room for the energetic and enterprising, and where she will be fortified while making her way, in the knowledge that she has the weight of the Salvation Army at her back.

He sums up the Army's undertaking on behalf of the women as follows:

"The Army will not advise anyone to migrate or become repatriated for the migration of any one who may not conform with the standards of suitability it has set up through its long experience with migration."

"The Army will provide for the reception and secure positions in given localities prior to sailing for all whom it may select for overseas settlement under this scheme."

"The Army undertakes the superintendence by its own officers or responsible persons, of the families migrated for four years, or until such time as the progress of the new settlers indicates that such guardianship can be dispensed with."

"In the event of failure to succeed in her new environment after four years trial, a contingency regarded as remote and exceptional, the Army will bring the widow back to this country."

General Booth claims that the responsibilities thus voluntarily undertaken on behalf of the women reach farther and are more comprehensive than anything required by state regulation or anything that might be attempted by any other organization.

Christiania, Oct. —The shortage of available dwelling-houses, with still more serious prospects for the winter, is reported from various places in Norway. In certain districts city authorities have resorted to extreme measures to provide shelter for those unable to find houses. The city council of Bergen has begun to expropriate unoccupied houses, but the number of these is inadequate. The aldermen of Trondhjem have requested authorization to expropriate not only vacant houses, but also club-rooms and similar localities. The Christiania authorities are considering the expropriation and use as dwellings of taverns and even places devoted to religious gatherings.

BACK FROM TRIP TO STATE OF TEXAS

Mrs. Robert R. Ranson and Daughter Pleasant Visit Home.

Mrs. Robert R. Ranson and daughter Nettie have just returned from Texas after spending a month very pleasantly with Mrs. Ranson's sister Mrs. G. W. Benjamin and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin both of whom were born and raised in Morgan Co. and moved to Texas many years ago, are now living on their farm in Johnson Co., only 2 miles from the pretty city of Cleburne, of about 16,000 inhabitants. The fine new court house there cost $225,000, has a basement and foundation of dark granite. The main building is of red brown brick and inside is of gray marble. They have many fine schools and 21 churches, all denominations being represented. People seem to take great interest in both religion and politics. Most all are democrats and just before the Jacksonville people left they were celebrating the re-election of Pres. Wilson. G. W. Benjamin, however, is a staunch Republican and was chairman of all the committee meetings in his county and a delegate to the State Convention. They also had the pleasure of meeting many pleasant people and all seemed to be enjoying a prosperous year.

Texas, like all our other states, is getting the highest market prices for all farm products ever known. Cotton was selling at 19c and 20c per pound, corn $1.25 per bushel, wheat, $2.00 per bushel, peanuts, $1.25 per bushel. Hogs and cattle about the same as here.

Mr. Benjamin is one of the most prosperous farmers in his county, having on his home place 120 acres all under hog-proof fence, divided into six different divisions and especially fitted for raising hogs and other stock. He has more hog-proof fence on his farm than anyone in that part of the country.

The Jacksonville people were all certainly glad to receive the news of the results of this election in their home state, Illinois.

PAINS IN SIDE AND BACK

How Mrs. Kelly Suffered and How She was Cured.

Burlington, Wis.—"I was very irregular, and had pains in my side and back, but after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and using two bottles of the Sanative Wash I am fully convinced that I am entirely cured of these troubles, and feel better all over. I know your remedies have done me worlds of good and I hope every suffering woman will give them a trial."—Mrs. ANNA KELLY, 710 Chestnut Street, Burlington, Wis.

The many convincing testimonials constantly published in the newspapers ought to be proof enough to women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the medicine they need.

This good old root and herb remedy has proved unequalled for these dreadful ills; it contains what is needed to restore woman's health and strength.

If there is any peculiarity in your case requiring special advice, write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for free advice.

PATRIOTISM AS SEEN IN OUR AMERICAN CITIES.

(By Miss Olivia Dunlap.)
America is fast becoming a nation of great cities. Chicago's population exceeds today the entire population of the United States during Washington, Adams and Jefferson's administrations. We have one hundred cities in the United States that speak 66 different tongues and dialects.

We call them American cities. But are they American cities? They are cities in America, filled with a population from every nation, every clime in the world. Of the 4,624 tongues spoken in the world I find from personal research 1,982 are spoken in these one hundred cities of the United States.

During the years I have been working and studying these people nothing has surprised me as the intelligent part these Americans by adoption have taken in our recent presidential campaign. Their interest in the questions involved and their loyalty to the old American flag have far surpassed my greatest hopes and expectations.

Gary, wonderful Gary, with its 8 miles of lake front, its great steel mills. Eighty per cent of her population is foreign born, 65 different languages are spoken.

A dark November eve a day of woe after our recent election I stepped from an interurban car about 5 o'clock at Gary, Ind. Eighteen thousand men were leaving the steel mills coming from the opposite direction from which I was going.

It was an elastic cosmopolitan company. Hundreds of taxis were carrying the men to the checks they call home. Street cars were full. The sidewalk was one solid sea of humanity.

The news stand was doing a good business, near the newsboys in the midst of these sons of every clime I started to hear their remarks in regard to the new president.

I put my loyalty to my country and my flag to a low par to hear these foreign tongues patriotic allegiance to our laws and our flag.

I could only fully understand 12 different tongues but by the expression of the faces of the others I could understand that it mattered not for whom he had cast his vote that the President elect was "His President." After waiting some forty minutes traffic was clear enough that I could secure a taxi for the Friendship Settlement House, the light house of our church maintains in the most foreign quarters of Gary.

It is a training school for these foreign folks of every tongue and clime. A young Serbian was at the wheel. His knowledge of English was limited.

I said to him, "Can you drive me to the Friendship Settlement?" Such a look of confidence came over his face.

In his broken English he replied, "Shure I can Madam." When I thanked him in his own tongue, he replied, "O ye are my friend." A young doctor took the same taxi and gave the order to be driven immediately to Mercy Hospital. The young Serbian chauffeur said, "That depends. If the lady is in a hurry for Friendship House tells us how to live Americans at Mercy Hospital, they kill us." And in his broken English he turned to me and said, "Lady, what is your order?" I gave the order for Mercy Hospital first.

After we deposited the Doctor the Serbian told me the story of how his friends had been carried there, and died. As he drove two miles on to the Friendship House he told me how a lone boy he came to the Friendship House. How he had been trusted, guided and helped to be a true American, not a lawless citizen.

America's immigrant question would soon be solved, the cities in America would soon be American cities, if we taught them to live, cultivating that beautiful ideal that they came to us with "that America is the Land of Promise" and by our loyalty to the constitution give them the example of Christian citizenship that they expect to find. Then they would realize that our hospitals do not kill but save men and women for future service.

At Ellis Island today is a great company upward of a thousand people who cannot come into our country for various reasons. They cannot return until the war across the sea closes. Yet these men and women will carry back high ideals because of Commissioner Howe's treatment and settlement workers message of Christ.

My disapproval of war has greatly increased since I talked and endeavored to comfort these broken hearts, who can never enjoy the privileges "Old Glory" gives to us and we accept so thoughtlessly.

And do not pause to think that only a few generations back our forefathers came to the same shores with the same hopes and desires, to worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience.

Is the work of Americanizing these people a privilege, an opportunity, a responsibility or a burden? Off with the hat as the flag passes by, uncover your heads, teach him to hold it holy and high for the sake of those who in our footsteps will tread.

WILLARD W. C. T. U. NOTES.

"There's a good time coming
A good time coming;
Earth shall glisten in the ray
Of the good time coming.
Cannon balls may aid the truth,
But thought's a weapon stronger;
We'll win our battles by it's aid,
Wait a little longer.

There's a good time coming—
A good time coming;
War in all men's eyes shall be
A monster of iniquity
In the good time coming,
Nations shall not quarrel then
To prove which is the stronger,
Nor slaughter men for glory's sake,
Wait a little longer.

There's a good time coming—
A good time coming;
The people shall be temperate,
Anger shall love instead of hate,
In the good time coming,
They shall use and not abuse,
And make all virtue stronger;
The reformation has begun,
Wait a little longer.

A number of plans were formulated for the future and the coming year bids fair to be a prosperous one.

"Dry Chicago in 1918 and Nation's Prohibition in 1920" is the slogan of The Dry Federation of Chicago. The White Ribboners were the recipients of the following prescription from our state president, Miss Helen L. Hood, at the state convention held in Joliet: "Take one spoonful of pleasant memories, two spoonfuls of endeavor for the happiness of others, two of the forgetfulness of sorrow. Mix well with half a pint of cheerfulness. Take a portion every hour of the day."

The recent union of 129 churches at Detroit in their mammoth meeting held by Billy Sunday, together with his vigorous tirade against the liquor traffic and the ills of intemperance, in the leading cities of the state, backed by the manhood of Michigan, November 7th resulted in a God-given victory for the right.

WEAK, AILING CHILDREN

Made Well and Strong by Simple Remedy.

Here is another letter that has just come to our attention, showing the power of Vinol to build up health and strength for weak, puny, ailing children.

W. A. Smith of Shanesville, Ohio, says: "My little child was puny, weak and ailing, could not rest at night and would not eat. I learned about Vinol and tried it, and within a week noticed an improvement. The child's appetite improved. It slept well, strength and health were soon built up. We think Vinol is excellent for weak, puny children."

Vinol is a delicious combination of beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates which creates an appetite tones up the digestive organs, enriches the blood and creates strength. Children love to take it.

We ask all parents of weak, sickly, delicate children in this vicinity to try Vinol with the understanding that we will return your money if it fails to benefit your little ones.

SEEK FACTS ABOUT U. S. RAILWAYS

Country-Wide Interest In Investigation Under the Newlands Resolution—Rumor Persists That Facts Are Sought To Lay Way For Government Ownership.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—The arrival in the capital of many prominent railroad officials, financiers, economists, and representatives of commercial and industrial organizations throughout the country indicates the widespread interest that is taken in the big railroad investigation under the Newlands resolution, which is to be launched here Monday with the beginning of a series of public hearings to be conducted by the joint sub-committee of congress appointed for that purpose.

While the joint committee's work will be distinct from that of the special investigating commission, authorized by the Adamson law, enacted to prevent the threatened railroad strike, its scope will be broad and any legislation recommended in the report to be made may include questions involved in the controversy between the roads and their employees. The public importance that attaches to the Newlands probe, however, lies in the fact that it is the first investigation attempted in this country with a view of inquiring into the advisability of government control of government ownership of the railroads and other public utilities. For some time past rumors have been in circulation to the effect that the committee will seize the opportunity to make a thorough investigation of assets and control of the railroads to acquire the properties by purchase or condemnation proceedings.

Government Ownership Forecast. These rumors have been strengthened by statements and interviews given out by Senator Newlands, head of the committee, who in a recent address in Chicago declared that "if government regulation fails, government ownership of railroads is inevitable. There is no other course open in settling disputes between the big employers and employees in public utilities. Government control or ownership is the question of the hour and must be faced by the people."

According to Senator Newlands the plans of the committee with relation to the question of government ownership will include a consideration of the practical results as to efficiency and economy where actually practiced; whether it is compatible with our system of government; what its effect will be on our institutions, and whether such a system would suit local needs. A practical method of acquiring the properties and securities of the railroads also will have to be devised, he says.

Questions At Issue. The principal questions that will confront the sub-committee are: Whether there shall be absolute government ownership of the railroads as well as of other public utilities, such as telegraph, wireless, cable, telephone and express companies, or Whether there shall be continued federal regulation, including requirement of federal incorporation or control of incorporation of railroads, with increased powers given to the interstate commerce commission.

One of the principal arguments against government ownership will be the claim that it will bring into politics the 1,700,000 employees, and that the efficiency of the roads when handled by the government will be less than by private hands. In answer to this the advocates of government ownership will point to the postoffice system as an instance where government control is best.

While the resolution creating the committee calls for a report to congress on or before the second Monday in January, it is assumed that an extension of time will be granted, and plans have been made for an inquiry that may require nearly two years for its completion.

While no definite decision has been reached, it is expected to hold hearings in the principal cities of the country, as well as in Washington, and the tentative itinerary includes New York, Chicago, Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis, San Francisco, New Orleans and Atlanta. It is not expected, however, that any hearings will be held outside of Washington before the first of the year.

The committee will ask leading economists, publicists, railroad commissions, railroad executives, employees, investors, farmers, shippers, bankers and representatives of business and industrial organizations to attend these hearings and present their opinions on the important subjects involved in the investigation.

Paris, Nov. 18.—The issue of sugar cards for the suburbs of Paris is under consideration by the authorities. At Neuilly the municipality has even taken the precaution to have a quantity of cards printed in readiness. The scarcity of sugar is due not so much to the lack of stocks as to the difficulties of distribution.

SHARP REDUCTIONS IN OUR MILLINERY SECTION. J. HERMAN.

THE EDUCATOR'S NOTEBOOK.

How many "Revolutionary" colleges has the United States? By exact count there are now in existence in the country ten colleges and universities established prior to 1776. In the order of their establishment, these are as follows: 1653, Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.; 1693, William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va.; 1696, St. John's College, Annapolis, Md.; 1701, Yale University, New Haven, Conn.; 1743, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia; 1746, University of Princeton, Princeton, N. J.; 1754, Columbia University, New York; 1764, Brown University, Providence, R. I.; 1766, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J.; 1769, Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H. All the early American colleges were founded on religious principles, and inspired by religious purposes. Harvard was specially designed to prepare young men for the ministry. The development of Yale was entrusted to the guidance of Congregational ministers. The College of William and Mary in Virginia had for one of its chief objects the instruction of young men intending to take orders in the "Established Church." The academy at Philadelphia, which grew into the University of Pennsylvania, had a Quaker origin and was founded by the son of William Penn. The College of New Jersey, now Princeton, embracing many religious sects and welcoming many nationalities, placed at the head of its aims in liberal training the thorough preparation of candidates for the ministry.

Two new members are to be elected this week to the American Academy of Arts and Letters, the membership of which is restricted to fifty, to fill the vacancies caused by the deaths of Henry James, the distinguished novelist, and James Whitcomb Riley, the Hoosier poet. The Academy will hold a joint meeting in New York on Nov. 15 and 17, with its parent body, the National Institute of Arts and Letters, for the purpose of electing the new American "Immortals." Among the noted men who will speak at the meeting are Theodore Roosevelt, William Dean Howells, president of the Academy; Prof. William Roscoe Thayer of Harvard, William Gray Brownell, the essayist, and William Churchill, the novelist. President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia will give a dinner and reception in honor of the members.

A day will be kept in the elementary schools of Great Britain as "Jack Cornwell Day," in honor of the boy hero of the Battle of Jutland, who has just been awarded a posthumous V. C. The story of the life and death of the gallant sailor boy will be told to the children and the splendid example of heroism, which he has set to the boys and girls of the Empire will be pointed out by the teachers. Stamps with the portrait of the boy will be distributed.

CESSATION OF FOREIGN BUYING BRING SETBACK
Wheat Prices Close Heavy at Several Cent Lower—Corn and Oats Also Off.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Virtual cessation of foreign buying brought about a pronounced setback today in the value of wheat. Prices closed heavy 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 ct lower with December at $1.78 to 1.78 1/2 and May at $1.83 1/2 to 1.84.

Corn finished 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 down, oats off 3/4 to 1/2 and provisions less expensive by 1 1/2 to 60c.
December delivery of wheat was especially weak, going at one time to about 6 cent discount under the May option—the widest difference so far this year. Difficulty in obtaining insurance on wheat in store here had much to do with the relative heaviness of the December contracts.

Rains in Argentina tended to put corn prices on the downgrade.
Chances of enlarged domestic receipts formed another element of depression. Falling off in arrivals gave relative strength to oats. Export call for oats continued.

Provisions were bearishly affected by the fall in the value of coarse grains. Some note was also taken of a decline in Liverpool quotations on lard.

LIVESTOCK MARKETS.
Chicago, Nov. 18.—Hog prices were upheld today because arrivals did not total as many as on the corresponding day last week. More than the usual supply of cattle reached the yards. Most sheep and lambs went to packers direct.

NO INDIGESTION, GAS, OR STOMACH MISERY IN FIVE MINUTES

"Pape's Diapepsin" for Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Dyspepsia

Time it! In five minutes all stomach distress will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas, acid or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the regular, quickest and most certain indigestion remedy in the whole world, and besides it is harmless.

Millions of men and women now eat their favorite foods without fear—they know Pape's Diapepsin will save them from any stomach misery.

Please, for your sake, get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store and put your stomach right. Don't keep on being miserable—life is too short—you are not here long, so make your stay agreeable. Eat what you like and digest it; enjoy it without dread of rebellion in the stomach.

Pape's Diapepsin belongs in your home anyway. Should one of the family eat something which doesn't agree with them, or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or stomach derangement at daytime or during the night, it is handy to give the quickest, surest relief known.—Adv.

A CHILD HATES OIL, CALOMEL, PILLS FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Give "California Syrup of Figs" if Cross, Sick, Feverish, Constipated

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Adv.

KEEP LIVER ACTIVE AND BOWELS CLEAN "WITH CASCARETS"

Take Cascarets to loosen your liver and clean the bowels and stop headaches, a bad cold, biliousness, offensive breath, coated tongue, sallowness, sour stomach and gases. Tonight take Cascarets and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. Wake up feeling grand. Everybody's doing it. Cascarets best laxative for children also.—Adv.

CHINA CELEBRATED REPUBLIC'S BIRTHDAY

Greatest Changes Have Come in Five Years Time — Democracy Marked Celebration

Peking, Oct. — (Correspondence of The Associated Press) — China celebrated the fifth anniversary of the establishment of the republic with patriotic exercises in practically all sections of the country. Peking was the scene of one of the most brilliant military reviews ever held in China. The capital city was gorgeously decorated with the five-barred flags of the republic, and great arches of brilliant colors were erected all along the ten-mile route from the Forbidden City to the Nanyuan parade ground, where thirty thousand troops passed in review before President Li Yuan-hung.

Great changes have come over the Chinese republic since the fourth anniversary of its establishment. Yuan Shi-kai was in the throes of the monarchial movement last year, and was compelled to abandon the annual review of troops in the capital which had previously been held on the anniversary of the republic's birth.

Democracy of the most pronounced type marked this year's celebration. The occasion was characteristic of the spirit which has dominated Chinese affairs since Li Yuan-hung became the president. Imperialism was thoroughly in the background.

It was Yuan Shi-kai's practice to review the troops from a balcony high up on the immense watch-tower which surrounds the main entrance to the Forbidden City. But Li Yuan-hung rode boldly outside the Forbidden City to the great drill ground south of Peking, where he mounted a horse and, accompanied by his staff, made a complete round of the military forces which were drawn up in a great hollow. He then took his position on a low reviewing stand and stood practically unmolested while the thousands of infantrymen, cavalrymen and artillerymen passed in review.

Great interest centered about the review, as there had been rumors that certain disgruntled military leaders might inspire an attempt upon the president, and endeavor to replace the present government with a military dictatorship. The president made light of the reports and demonstrated his hold upon the Chinese people by appearing as had been arranged before the evil rumors came into circulation.

This action was done much to strengthen the Chinese republic and Li Yuan-hung's leadership. It was widely advertised in the newspapers that the troops which passed in review were chiefly northern soldiers. The loyalty of this force of thirty thousand magnificently drilled soldiers was a warning to disgruntled leaders in central and south China that Li Yuan-hung and his government have actual physical strength with which to resist any onslaught upon Peking.

Li Yuan-hung wore the gorgeous dress uniform of a Chinese general. His long coat and trousers were light grey-blue, of European cut, heavily trimmed with gold, and his breast was covered with a score of medals and decorations bestowed upon the leader who was an obscure brigadier general in Wuchang five years ago. His helmet was surmounted by a flowing plume.

When the Chinese president mounted his horse and dashed across the reviewing field, the hundreds of foreigners invited to attend the review were much impressed by his active figure and the ease with which he rode. He is still the same active military leader who practically initiated at Wuchang the revolution which undid the Manchu regime and made it possible for him to become vice president of the new republic.

At the conclusion of the review, biplanes and monoplanes of the Chinese aerial corps flew over the reviewing grounds, while President Li Yuan-hung stood watching the flights. Scores of photographers and moving picture men were permitted to photograph the president. He showed no uneasiness nor fear of any assault. His bodyguard did not accompany him to the reviewing stand, and apparently there was no effort to prevent assassins from attacking him, had they wished to do so.

The Chinese press is unanimous in its praise of Li Yuan-hung's defiance of the critics of the present administration. Newspapers in the capital and the other prominent cities of China say the president did much to silence the critics of his cabinet by his fearless participation in the celebration of the anniversary of the founding of the republic.

Mrs. Ellen Hamilton was among the visitors in the city Saturday.

AUTO THIEVES ACTIVE IN CENTRAL ILLINOIS

Gang is Believed to be Sweeping the State from Chicago for Towns South.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 18.—(Special)—It is strongly believed that a professional gang of automobile thieves are operating in Springfield and that they are an attack to the faction which have made a business of stealing cars through the state for the last few months. It is believed that the gang is sweeping the state from Chicago for towns south. Last night five cars were reported missing besides those thefts from many country towns west of here are minus their vehicles. County officials have sent notice for a radius of 100 miles from here to keep watch for the robbers and missing cars. The officials from Chicago, Peoria, Bloomington, Canton, Joliet and Aurora have sent notice here to watch for the thieves. The cars of William Bradford of Illinois, Harry Leigh of Curran and Charles Humbolt of Mechanicburg were among the country cars stolen.

Miss Virginia Entrikin, teacher of the Brush College school near Murphysville, visited the city yesterday.

NOON MEAL FOR CHILD

Suggestions for Adapting the Ordinary Family Dinner to Needs of School Children.

There is no reason why the ordinary family dinner should not be suitable for school children or served in a way that adapts it to their needs, according to Farmers' Bulletin 712, School Lunches. The usual first course of meat and vegetables contains nothing, except the meat, which cannot be given, even to the youngest children. The vegetables, provided they are carefully prepared by simple methods, are especially needed and can often be made attractive to children by being served with a little meat gravy. As a substitute for the meat itself, milk can be provided in the case of the younger children. These articles, with the bread and butter, provide most of the food needed.

The dessert course is suitable for children as well as grown people, unless it consists of rich pastries or puddings. The latter are not considered wholesome for children, if for no other reason than that they are likely to lead to overeating. Such desserts as fruit, fresh or cooked, with cake; cereals with milk, or cream, and sugar; custards and custard puddings; gelatin dishes; simple ice cream; and other simple desserts may be given.

Whether or not the family meal is healthful for children depends not so much on the food as on the carelessness with which it is prepared; also on the way in which they are cooked. Simple methods are to be preferred from the standpoint of health as well as from that of the housekeeper's time. All dishes that are likely to contain overheated and of in one large dish from which indigestion is open to fewer objections, since, if properly done, foods will absorb little fat and the fat will not sear. Vegetables cooked in water or in their own juices and seasoned with salt and a little butter or cream are easier to prepare than those that are served with white sauce, scalloped, or cooked in other elaborate ways.

What is said above applies equally to all meals. There is, however, one special precaution that applies to the noon meal when it is hurried. This refers to tough, hard foods that are likely to escape proper mastication. It is a mistake to think that the foods given to children must always be soft or finely divided, for children's teeth need exercise quite as much as their muscles do. When time for eating is limited, however, it is well to omit foods that are difficult to chew, and in extreme cases it may be necessary to serve only soft or finely divided foods—sandwiches made from crustless bread with finely chopped fillings, for example. Before resorting to this, however, it is well to make sure that the time for eating and for insisting on good table manners is not unnecessarily cut short. The advantage of putting the meal on the table promptly and of having foods served in individual portions, or at least ready to eat when they are brought to the table, should be kept in mind. To have the meat already sliced and the dessert in cups instead of in one large dish from which individual portions must be served, and to follow the same general plan with other foods, may change a hurried meal into one at which there is plenty of time for attention to details essential to health and good manners.

If special lunches, different from those prepared for the family in general, are to be given to school children, the following are suggested as bills of fare. They are only typical and many others might be given which might be just as good.

Suggested Bills of Fare for the Home Lunch

1. Eggs, boiled, codfish, poached or scrambled; bread and butter; spinach or greens; cake.
2. Beef stew with vegetables; milk; crisp, thin tea biscuits; honey.
3. Dried bean or pea puree; toast; baked apple; cookies.
4. Vegetable-milk soup; zwieback; rice with maple sugar and butter or with milk or cream.
5. Potato chowder; crackers; jelly sandwiches.
6. Cold meat; creamed potatoes; peas; bread and butter; frozen custard or plain ice cream and plain cake.
7. Lamb chop; baked potatoes; bread and butter; sliced mixed fruits; cookies.
8. Baked omelet with spinach, kale, or other greens; bread and butter; apple sauce; cake.
